Accomplishments of the mentorship program with Anuj

- His articles have started to rank on google more.
- Since he has seen his articles come to fruition, he has gained more confidence.
- He has started to take more initiative.
- His writing flair has improved.
- The structure of his articles has improved.
- He spends less time on an article, approx 1 hr 45 mins per piece on average.
- His motivation has shot up now that everyone has a positive outlook toward him.
- The editor now finds his pieces editable.

- The editor does not have to spend more time on his pieces, thus decreasing the standby time of articles.

Things yet to work on

- Anuj still struggles with a few sentences. For example, instead of writing “did” he would write “did do”
- Still need to work on the timing of his pieces, need to push him closer to the one hour per piece mark.
- Inconsistent in his approach.
- Needs to work more on the quality aspect of his articles.
- Still needs assistance sometimes.
- Knows more about the relevance of SEO but still needs to work his way to perfection.
- Need to fuel his motivation from time to time.
- Struggles with covering event-based pieces like NFL Combine and NFL Draft or anything unfamiliar.

Feedback from Anuj

- He is able to structure the content properly.
- Has a clear vision of how he is performing.
- He learned a lot about making the content SEO friendly.
- Is able to manage time well.
- Has gained the required motivation and momentum.
